

How to get an a alert

1st Example

`https://samantha.iscool.com/about?img=" onerror="alert('ethan_was_here')"`

Explanation: This URL contains an onerror attribute that triggers an alert when the image fails to load. This can be used to execute arbitrary JavaScript code in the context of the user's browser.

Impact: An attacker can use this technique to inject malicious scripts into a website, potentially leading to data theft, account compromise, or other security issues.
